

WHERE DID THE SUFFRAGETTE LEAVE HER TOFFEE HAMMER?

All of the answers can be found in The 1900s Town.

It's not where the Suffragette sash is on show:
Purple Dignity
White Purity
Green Hope

It's not where the NUWSS
placard is in a window (National Union of Women's Suffrage Societies)

It's not where you can find photos of the Edinburgh to London march

It's not where you will see the article entitled
'Broken Windows'
in the window

It's not where you can see a triangular banner that reads
'Deeds Not Words' in the window

It's not where you can read the sign
'We do not sell
toffee hammers here!'

PRINTER'S

SWEET SHOP

GARAGE

MASONIC HALL

BARCLAYS BANK

CHEMIST'S

PHOTOGRAPHERS'

DENTIST'S

MUSIC TEACHER'S

SOLICITOR'S

HARDWARE STORE

GROCER'S

DRAPER'S

It's not where you will find a Suffragette umbrella

It's not where you will find a Beamish Suffragette banner, (not sure how they managed to get it placed here)

It's not where you will find a placard for the WSPU (Women's Social and Political Union)

It's not where you will find a pamphlet called
'To the Women of the United Kingdom'

It's not where you will find the colours of the Suffragists:
Green Give
White Women
Red Rights

It's not where you will find an orange and green poster that reads, 'What a woman may be, and yet not have the vote'

The toffee hammer is vital evidence! When you know where it is please let the inspector know so he can arrest the Suffragette. Don't forget to email your answer to: simonwoolley@beamish.org.uk for a certificate!

